Bangalore 12th June 1943.

War Injuries Scheme.

Sir,

I am directed to draw attention to the Government of India (Labour Department) notification No.L827, dated the 26th May 1943 (published in the Gazette of India, Part I, Section I dated the 29th May 1943), making further amendment in the War Injuries Scheme, 1942. The Political Department state that the object of this amendment is to cover specifically such cases as that of a workman who sustains an injury on any day before the time at which he is due to be at work, instead of leaving such a case to be covered by either of the phrases "or other similar cause" or "or for any other reason which

which in the opinion of the Claims Officer was good and sufficient".

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your most obedient servant,

SECRETARY TO THE RESIDENT.

Clause 2 (2) (e) (ii) of the War Injuries Scheme.

As at present.

"(ii) a war injury sustained by a person engaged in any employment specified in this behalf by the Government, if on the day on which the injury was sustained he was on duty in connection with that employment, or would have been on duty but for that day being a recognised holiday or day of rest or for his being casually absent from duty on account of illness or other similar cause, or for any other reason which in the opinion of the Claims Officer was good and sufficient."

As proposed to be amended.

"(ii) a war injury sustained by a person engaged in any employment specified in this behalf by the Government, if the injury was sustained at any time on a day on which he was on duty in connection with that employment, or would have been on duty but for that day being a recognised holiday or day of rest or for his being casually absent from duty on account of illness, injury or other similar cause or for any other reason which in the opinion of the Claims Officer was good and sufficient."
